

ARE YOU FULLY FOCUSED?

Distractions are a danger when doing critical maintenance tasks.

Distraction may be responsible for more than one in 10 maintenance errors. Follow these tips:

- use a worksheet
- add a reminder when a job is not complete
- have someone else double-check the task
- finish the task before you react
- remember you can backtrack or start again.

See our Safety Behaviours: Human Factors for Engineers resource kit. It includes videos and other useful resources.
